

Handpicked at The Plenary

Press Release
 29.07.19

—
 Media Contact
 Charly Binney
 Charlotte@commonstate.co
 M (+61) 435 356 530

MIFF 2019 Media Centre

Remi Handpicks

Handpicked Wines is giving 60 lucky punters an unlimited Plenary Pass for MIFF's opening weekend

To celebrate the opening weekend of Melbourne International Film Festival, MIFF, in conjunction with Handpicked Wines, are giving away 30 Plenary Passes, which will entitle a lucky group of cinema-loving Melburnians the chance to win an all-you-can-see double-pass for their opening weekend at the Plenary.

For the first time in its history, MIFF will take over the Plenary at the Melbourne Convention and Entertainment Centre for the opening weekend of the festival – creating an extraordinary cinematic experience for audiences. Reimagining the cinema experience for 2019, the festival has brought in three mammoth 12-14 metre screens and a state-of-the-art sound system, which will turn the Plenary into a cinephile's dream.

Opening weekend screenings will showcase the best of this year's Cannes Film Festival, as well the world premiere of the Adam Goodes documentary The Australian Dream; Harmon Korine and Matthew McConaughey's outrageous collaboration The Beach Bum; and the brilliant Judy & Punch, alongside cinematic experiences such as neo-soul sensation Sampa The Great live scoring Girlhood and The Wheeler Centre's 'in conversation' with Sonic Youth's Thurston Moore.

To complement the cinema experience, the Plenary will come alive with the Handpicked Wines Pop-up Winery; Pidapippo; and food offerings from Posh Brioche, The Dough Truck and Wedgies.

Film stills and ambassador campaign assets here.

To enter, simply head to the MIFF Instagram or Facebook and tag a friend and handpick a film you want to see with them on opening weekend.

-END-